A BALLADE OF YEAR-END PETITION

O Blessed Lord, who hast these many days
 Walked with me step by step, through dark and light,
 And ever filled my mouth with joy and praise,
 And all my life with goodness, day and night;
 For days of war to come I claim Thy might,
 In certain knowledge that Thou wilt appear
 As in the past, beside me in each fight—
Abide with me through all the coming year!

O Blessed Lord, by many tortuous ways
 Thy hand hath led me, and hath led aright;
 At times on mountain top I've met the blaze
 Of noon-day sun: and erst from dizzy height
 I've passed to darksome vale, my arms bedight
 With beads of pestilential vapor; near
 Dark mouths of Hell I've passed—in white—
Abide with me through all the coming year!

O Blessed Lord, Thy love my spirit sways!
 Behold me now Thy true and faithful knight,
 Prepared to stand, or fight, in daze, or haze,
 So Thou be glorified in all men's sight:
 But go Thou with me, so that put to flight
 Shall be the hosts of Satan, struck with fear;
 Still, Lord, I dare not go alone Thy foes to smite—
Abide with me through all the coming year!

Envoy.

O Blessed Lord, be future black or bright,
 I would Thy softest whisper ever hear;
 And that my life Thy Spirit may delight,
Abide with me through all the coming year!

T. C. M.
